Dear Parent/ Guardian,

Thank you for your continued support throughout the year. We know that it has not been an easy two years but by the Grace of God we are here and doing God's work. The work we do can only be effective if we all work together as a unit.

To this end we are inviting you to parents meeting to come and get to know the catechists, find out what your child is learning and share your ideas with us!

Parents meeting will be held on March 6th 2022 at 11:30am. There is Sunday school for the students on that day, so please bring your child to mass at 9am and then we will proceed to class.

Thank you and may the Lord continue to bless you all!

Feb. 13, 2022: Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Today's readings illustrate what might seem to be a similar contrast between Jeremiah and Jesus. Jeremiah, so gloomy that his name became synonymous with bitter laments, tells us to trust nobody who comes in flesh and blood. Jesus takes a different tack — not exactly the opposite, but what Pope Francis might call a "contraposition," a way of thinking in which people allow what seem to be contradictory visions to stretch and broaden their point of view.

Jesus looks at the world and its fickle, fallible people and, rather than say, "Trust no one," he affirms those who take an uncommon approach to life. Fully aware that he may be speaking in riddles, he says, "Blessed are you who are poor, hungry, weeping and hated." Speaking (then and now) to a humanity that tends to equate good fortune with God's blessing, Jesus draws the map to happiness by a different route. His description of blessed happiness reorients our imagination.

At their core, the beatitude-contrasts Jesus presented illustrate the distinction between ill-begotten assumptions about self-sufficiency and an embrace of our need for others. Jesus' "Beatitudes" describe the happiness that can be known only by people who so prize the common good that they are scandalized by poverty and indifference. Such people understand that we human beings need each other so much that the only wealth that matters in the long run is the richness of loving relationships. They are convinced that when even one person goes hungry, our very humanity suffers malnourishment. The people Jesus describes as genuinely happy are those who know the solidarity of weeping with others. While they may be mocked and mistreated, that sort of misery counts for little compared to the peace of living with integrity or the living witness that goodness is possible, no matter what. For such people, poverty creates blessed interdependence, hunger is a call to action, weeping together creates community, and persecution is a sign that your community is succeeding in being a real threat to the powers of evil.

Jeremiah warned his readers to trust no living person, but to put their trust in God. Jesus proclaimed his contraposition, explaining that we can encounter the reign of God, God's active presence among us, in a community of flesh and blood people. Not only that, but we are invited to be those people in our moment of history. Try.

Heart Disease is the leading cause of death for both men and women in the United States.

80% of heart disease is preventable.
Signs and symptoms of a heart attack

- Pain or pressure in the chest
- Pain radiating to the jaw or left arm.

Other symptoms may include:

- Back pain
- Shortness of breath
- Cold sweats
- Light headedness
- Indigestion
- Vomiting and/or nausea.

Pain can occur at rest or during activities. Call 911 if any of these symptoms occur.

Steps that can lower your risk of Heart Disease

- Avoid use of any tobacco products (ex: smoking, second hand smoke)
- Maintain a healthy weight. Excess weight especially around your middle increases your risk for heart disease.
- Daily exercise (3x week at minimum) as simple as walking briskly around the house, or up and down steps as tolerated.
- Eat a heart-healthy diet rich in fruits, vegetables, whole grains, lean meats and fish. Cook with unsaturated fats such as vegetable/olive oil. These oils are low in fat and salt.

Reducing your risk of Heart Disease

- Regular health screening for blood pressure, cholesterol and blood sugar [higher levels can increase risk for heart disease]
- Quality Sleep Schedule (seven to nine hours of sleep each night).
- Being proactive and knowing your family history

IMPORTANT NOTICE REGARDING EMAIL SCAM

Please be aware that there is a malicious email/scam circulating that uses religious leaders as a ploy to scam you. Fr. Mawisi's name is being used in one of them. There are variations of this scam, but most of them are asking for a "favor", or asking you to purchase gift cards or asking you to send money.

Fr. Mawisi would never ask you for money or gift cards in an email.

· Do not respond to a request for a "favor" that does not describe what the favor is.

All generous offerings should be made safely and securely through Online Giving or by cash or check given in the collection basket at Mass or through the Church office.

If you receive a scam email, text or phone call, do not respond.

· Please contact the Rectory if you have any questions.
